

This letter is important and requires your immediate attention.

If you are in any doubt about the contents of this letter or the action you should take, you are recommended to seek your own independent financial advice immediately from an independent financial adviser duly authorised under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (as amended) if you are resident in the United Kingdom, or, if resident elsewhere, from another appropriately authorised independent financial adviser.

23 August 2024

Dear Participant,

PSP Awards granted under the Ascential plc Executive Performance Share Plan (the “PSP”) and the recommended cash acquisition of Ascential plc by Informa PLC

On 24 July 2024, the boards of Ascential plc (“Ascential”) and Informa PLC (“Informa”) announced that they had reached agreement on the terms of a recommended cash offer for the entire issued, and to be issued, ordinary share capital of Ascential (the “Acquisition”).

1. Why are we writing to you?

We are writing to explain how the Acquisition will affect your conditional awards granted under the PSP (your “PSP Awards”). Please read everything in this letter and everything shared with it (the “Letter”) carefully. The contents are very important.

This Letter only relates to your PSP Awards. If you participate in any other Ascential Share Plans, or hold other types of awards under the PSP, you will receive separate communications setting out the effect of the Acquisition on those awards and options and any Ascential Shares held under those Ascential Share Plans. Please also read those communications carefully as the treatment of those awards and options and any Ascential Shares held under those Ascential Share Plans may be different from the treatment of your PSP Awards.

No action is required to be taken by you as a result of this Letter.

In this Letter:

- Part A describes the effect of the Acquisition on your PSP Awards.
- Part B explains the key words and phrases used in this Letter. Unless otherwise defined, capitalised terms used in this Letter have the same meaning as in the Scheme Document.

Part A

2. The Acquisition

The Acquisition will result in Ascential and its subsidiaries becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of Informa (and/or one or more of its wholly-owned subsidiaries).

The Acquisition will take place through a “scheme of arrangement” (the “Scheme”). This is a procedure which must be approved by Ascential Shareholders and the Court. The date on which the Court approves the Scheme is referred to in this Letter as the “Court Sanction Date”. The Court Sanction Date is not when the Acquisition will complete. The Acquisition is currently expected to complete on the Business Day after the Court Sanction Date (this is referred to as the Scheme becoming “Effective” which will occur on the “Effective Date”).

Full details of the Scheme are set out in the Scheme Document sent to Ascential Shareholders dated 12 August 2024. A copy of the Scheme Document is also available on the Ascential website at <https://www.ascential.com/investors/recommended-offer-for-ascential-by-informa>. If you are already an Ascential Shareholder, the Scheme Document sets out the impact of the Acquisition on the Ascential Shares that you currently hold. This Letter should be read together with the Scheme Document.

3. What are the terms of the Acquisition?

Ascential Shareholders will receive 568 pence for each Ascential Share they own.

If Ascential completes the disposal of Hudson MX prior to the Court Sanction Date, the net sale proceeds of the disposal (subject to the approval of the Ascential Directors) will be returned to Ascential Shareholders by way of cash dividend without any reduction in the price per Ascential Share offered by Informa (the “Permitted Dividend”). Further details of how the Permitted Dividend may affect your PSP Awards are provided in section 6 below.

4. When is the Effective Date likely to take place?

The Effective Date is currently expected to take place in Q4 2024 but only after a number of conditions are satisfied. The expected timetable of events is available in the Scheme Document at page 10.

5. How will the Acquisition affect your PSP Awards?

The Acquisition will change the usual treatment of your PSP Awards.

Normally, your PSP Awards would vest on the normal vesting schedule set at the time your PSP Awards were granted, subject to the satisfaction of the relevant performance conditions. These performance conditions are normally assessed after the end of the relevant performance period applicable to your PSP Awards and the extent to which these conditions are satisfied will determine whether (and to what extent) your PSP Awards vest and, accordingly, the number of Ascential Shares you would be entitled to receive. Normally you would receive the Ascential Shares under your PSP Awards following the end of this performance period. For certain individuals including Ascential’s executive directors, those Ascential Shares would then be subject to a two-year post-vesting holding period during which time those Ascential Shares could not be disposed of.

However, as a result of the Acquisition, your PSP Awards will vest early (if they have not already vested) on the Court Sanction Date, unless they lapse earlier in accordance with their terms. The extent to which your PSP Awards vest is subject to the satisfaction of the applicable performance conditions. The Ascential Remuneration Committee will determine the extent to which these have been satisfied, and so the level of vesting, on or shortly before the Court Sanction Date. The extent to which your PSP Awards vest would also normally be subject to time pro-rating. However, the Ascential Remuneration Committee has agreed with Informa that no time pro-rating will apply to your PSP Awards.

Once the Ascential Remuneration Committee has determined the extent to which your PSP Awards will vest, you will be notified of its decision. Any part of your PSP Awards that does not vest will lapse on the Court Sanction Date. To the extent a post-vesting holding period is applicable to your PSP Awards, this will also cease to apply following the Court Sanction Date.

If any of your PSP Awards vest before the Court Sanction Date, Ascential Shares will be transferred to you and the Ascential Shares you own at the Scheme Record Time will be automatically acquired by Informa as part of the Scheme.

The Ascential Shares you receive in respect of your PSP Awards which vest on the Court Sanction Date will be automatically acquired by Informa under the Scheme for 568 pence in cash for each Ascential Share (less any income tax and social security contributions that Ascential is required to withhold).

If the Court does not sanction the Scheme for any reason, your PSP Awards will continue as normal, subject to the PSP rules.

6. What happens if a dividend is paid for the disposal of Hudson MX before the Court Sanction Date?

Because you hold PSP Awards, not Ascential Shares, you will not be entitled to receive the Permitted Dividend. However, the Ascential Remuneration Committee may decide that you are entitled to receive a “dividend equivalent” benefit in cash determined by reference to the value of dividends that would have been payable between the grant and vesting of your PSP Awards on the Ascential Shares subject to your PSP Awards that vest (which would include the Permitted Dividend).

7. What do you need to do?

You do not need to do anything for your PSP Awards to vest. This will happen automatically on the Court Sanction Date subject to the satisfaction of the relevant performance conditions. Any proceeds due to you less any income tax and social security contributions that Ascential is required to withhold from the sale of your Ascential Shares in respect of your PSP Awards to Informa will be paid to you after the proceeds have been received from Informa.

To facilitate the timely completion of the Acquisition, the Ascential Shares to which you become entitled in connection with the Acquisition will be held on your behalf by the trustee of the Ascential employee benefit trust (the “EBT Trustee”) as your nominee, and these Ascential Shares will automatically be sold on your behalf to Informa for the offer price.

8. Which currency will I receive the cash consideration in?

You will receive the cash proceeds (less any income tax and social security contributions that Ascential is required to withhold) through payroll in your payroll currency.

If your payroll currency is not British pounds sterling, the amount per Ascential Share received may vary, depending on the prevailing exchange rate, and any risk associated with this will be taken by you.

9. What if the Acquisition does not go ahead?

If the Court does not sanction the Scheme for any reason, your PSP Awards will continue as normal under the PSP rules.

10. What happens if I leave employment with the Ascential Group?

The leaver provisions under the PSP rules will apply to your PSP Awards in the normal way if you leave the Ascential Group before the Court Sanction Date.

If you leave the Ascential Group before the Court Sanction Date and continue to hold PSP Awards, your PSP Awards will generally be treated as set out in this Letter (although, where your PSP Awards are or have already been time-pro-rated to reflect the fact that you have left Ascential as a “good leaver”, that time pro-rating will continue to apply).

Please note: if you leave the Ascential Group before the Court Sanction Date, there is a risk that your PSP Awards could lapse on your leaving date or some other date before the Court Sanction Date (depending on when it occurs). If you leave employment before the Court Sanction Date, your PSP Awards will normally lapse on the date your employment ends, unless you qualify as a “good leaver”, in which case your PSP Awards will not lapse but will normally continue and vest (subject to the satisfaction of any applicable performance conditions and time pro-rating) on the earlier of their normal vesting date and the Court Sanction Date.

11. What are the tax implications for me if I am subject to taxation in the UK?

The information in this section is intended as a general guide only to certain UK tax considerations based on current UK law and what is understood to be the current practice of HMRC as at the date of this Letter and does not constitute tax advice to you or any individual participant. Please remember that tax law can and often does change, and you should not necessarily assume the current tax position will continue. As the tax rules for each country are different, the final amount of tax and social security contributions you will have to pay depends upon where you are resident for tax purposes. The information in this section applies only to participants resident for tax purposes in the UK and nowhere else throughout the time between the date that their PSP Awards were granted and the time that they vest. We strongly recommend that, if you are unsure how your PSP Awards will be taxed or if you are a resident or otherwise subject to tax in a jurisdiction outside the UK and in particular if your tax residency has changed during the period between grant and vesting, you seek advice from an independent tax adviser in your country of tax residence.

Please note that none of Ascential, Informa or Shareworks, or any of their employees, can provide you with legal, personal tax or financial advice. If you are in any doubt as to the contents of this Letter or the effect that the Acquisition will have on your personal tax position, you are recommended to seek your own independent tax and/or financial advice immediately from an appropriately qualified tax adviser or a stockbroker, bank manager, solicitor, accountant, or independent financial adviser duly authorised under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (as amended) if you are resident in the United Kingdom or, if not, from another appropriately authorised independent financial adviser, as applicable.

If you are subject to taxation in the UK, you will be subject to income tax and employee's National Insurance contributions on the market value of the Ascential Shares you receive at the time your PSP Awards vest. Ascential will withhold this amount and remit it to HMRC in the usual way.

Please note that even if tax has been deducted you may still have to report the receipt and sale of your Ascential Shares on your personal tax return.

If your PSP Awards vest on the Court Sanction Date, no capital gains tax is expected to arise on your sale of the Ascential Shares to Informa because you will have paid income tax and employee's National Insurance contributions on the vesting of your PSP Awards and the amount on which you paid income tax is the base cost of those Ascential Shares.

12. What are the tax implications for me if I am subject to taxation in the US?

The information in this section is intended as a general guide only, does not constitute tax advice to you or any individual participant and does not take into account you or any individual participant's particular facts and circumstances. Please remember that tax law can and often does change, and you should not necessarily assume the current tax treatment will continue. We strongly recommend that, if you are unsure how your PSP Awards will be taxed, you seek advice from an independent tax adviser. The information in this section is limited solely to US federal income tax matters. We strongly recommend that you seek advice from an independent tax advisor regarding any US state or non-US tax considerations or other tax considerations that may be applicable to you.

Please note that none of Ascential, Informa or Shareworks, or any of their employees, can provide you with legal, personal tax or financial advice. If you are in any doubt as to the contents of this Letter or the effect that the Acquisition will have on your personal tax position, you are recommended to seek your own independent tax and/or financial advice immediately from an appropriately qualified tax adviser or from another appropriately authorised independent financial adviser.

If you are subject to taxation in the US, you will be subject to US federal income tax (and US federal employment taxes) on the fair market value of the Ascential Shares (plus the amount of any "dividend equivalent" benefit in cash) you receive at the time your PSP Awards vest and are settled. Ascential will withhold in the same manner as it withholds on other equity compensation income and remit the withheld amounts to the appropriate US tax authorities in the usual way. Please note that your actual US federal income tax due may differ from the amount of US federal income tax withheld and remitted by Ascential on your behalf. The ordinary income you realise will be shown on your IRS Form W-2 for the year of the sale.

If your PSP Awards vest on the Court Sanction Date, no additional US federal income (or capital gains) tax is expected to arise on your immediate sale of the Ascential Shares to Informa. This is expected because you will have paid US federal income taxes on your PSP Awards, resulting in a tax basis in the Ascential Shares you receive that is equal to the income you recognise on the sale.

US state and local and non-US taxes may be applicable.

13. What if I hold Ascential Shares from previous PSP grants?

If you hold Ascential Shares from previous PSP grants that have vested and are held by Shareworks as nominee, you have been or will be contacted separately. Ascential Shares which are held at the Scheme Record Time, either by you directly, the EBT Trustee or by Shareworks as nominee, will be automatically purchased as part of the Acquisition for 568 pence in cash per Ascential Share, subject to the terms of the Acquisition. More detail is included in the Scheme Document and it is recommended that you read this.

Please refer to the tax summaries on the Shareworks portal for information on the tax treatment of your Ascential Shares in connection with the Scheme. We strongly recommend that, if you are unsure how your Ascential Shares will be taxed, you seek advice from an independent tax adviser in your country of tax residence.

14. What if I have any questions?

If you have any questions about your PSP Awards, please contact shareplans@ascential.com.

Please note that Ascential, Informa and Shareworks cannot give you any legal, tax, investment or financial advice on the merits of the Acquisition and its effect on your PSP Awards.

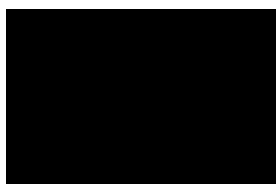

15. Important notes

Nothing in this Letter constitutes financial advice to any holder of shares, share options or share awards in Ascential or Informa.
